Abstract

Objectives

Among US-born children of Latina US (USB) and Latina foreign-born (LFOB) parents, we sought to determine whether 1) household and child characteristics differ; 2) these differences differ by duration of residence (DOR) in the US; and 3) these differences diminish for children of LFOB parents with longer DOR in the US; and 4) these differences differ by food insecurity (FI) or by Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program participation.

Особенности поисковой системы ScienceDirect

Поисковый запрос на английском языке!

Можно использовать как строчные, так и прописные буквы

При поиске существительных в единственном числе поиск будет проводиться также по этим существительным во множественном числе

При использовании нескольких слов, разделенных пробелами, будут найдены документы или изображения, содержащие указанные слова (AND)

Для поиска фраз необходимо использовать кавычки или фигурные скобки

Логические операторы и операторы близости

• AND • OR • AND NOT

(«heart attack» OR «myocardial infarction») AND diabetes AND NOT cancer

- W/n ограничивает поиск, задавая максимальное расстояние между двумя словами (не более n слов между словами в поисковом запросе). Порядок слов не имеет значения. Pain w/5 morphine отобразит документы, в которых слово pain находится в пределах 5 слов от слова morphine

- PRE/n ограничивает поиск, задавая максимальное количество слов, которые могут находиться между двумя указанными словами. Порядок слов имеет значение. Первое слово должно идти до второго, причем между ними должно быть не более указанного количества слов (n). Newborn PRE/3 screening отобразит документы, в которых слово screening находится до слова Newborn, а также в которых между указанными словами находится не более 3 слов.

- ( ) Порядок выполнения запроса или использование более одного оператора в поисковых запросах (heart w/2 attack) OR coronary

Поиск по датам и диапазонам

- 1995 или 1995-2018
- -без пробела1-25

Abstract

This research was aimed at developing a university library management model that would support students' learning. The research was conducted in three phases: 1) an investigation into the requirements of a university library service of instructors; 2) an investigation into the attitudes of librarians, libraries' administrators, and university's administrators toward the roles of library and policy concepts relating to university library management that promote students' learning; and 3) the development of a university library management model for students' learning support. A mixed research method was applied comprising qualitative and quantitative approaches. Data was collected using in-depth interviews and questionnaires. The findings have led to a proposal of a university library management model that supports student learning, which is comprised of five components: 1) management policy and system; 2) learning resources; 3) learning support services; 4) learning environments; and 5) the competency and roles of information professionals. It can be stated that studies into Thai university library implementation, strategic plans, and self-assessment reports under the quality assurance system showed that even though libraries have

Abstract

This research was aimed at developing a university library management model that would support students' learning. The research was conducted in three phases: 1) an investigation into the requirements of a university library service of instructors; 2) an investigation into the attitudes of librarians, libraries' administrators, and university's administrators toward the roles of library and policy concepts relating to university library management that promote students' learning; and 3) the development of a university library management model for students' learning support. A mixed research method was applied comprising qualitative and quantitative approaches. Data was collected using in-depth interviews and questionnaires. The findings have led to a proposal of a university library management model that supports student learning, which is comprised of five components: 1) management policy and system; 2) learning resources; 3) learning support services; 4) learning environments; and 5) the competency and roles of information professionals. It can be stated that studies into Thai university library implementation, strategic plans, and self-assessment reports under the quality assurance system showed that even though libraries have
